If this is the case, notify the Subscription Dept., Community Publications, 10815 Whyte Ave., and changes will be made accordingly.

JEFFREY NEWS BRIEFS

Douglas Donnelly is helping at R. H. Moffats since Mr. Phil St. Louis was called home when his father at Pickardville had a tractor accident.

Although the Sunday School picnic Friday was not as large as other years, everyone who attended enjoyed themselves. Mr. Jack Moffat played his accordion for a sing-song after supper.

Mr. Geo. Brouillette threshed barley on August 28. It turned out good although some hail damage.

Benny and Roger Brandl went to Edmonton Tuesday to see their little niece.

LEGAL RESIDENT ILL

LEGAL. — Mrs. Arthur Bergevin of Legal has been announced as gravely ill.

Visiting Mrs. B. St. Martin this week were her mother, Mrs. Meunier and her sister.

Highly polished children from six years upward made their appearance in various moods to greet the new term and, much to Clyde's credit, the same teaching staff as last year.

Miss Hall of Bon Accord has grades 1 and 2, Mrs. G. Siegle of Clyde teaches grades 3 and 4, Miss Margaret Forbes of Waskatenau resumes her regular 5 and 6 classes, Mrs. G. Kellough of Clyde teaches 7 and 8, Mr. Ben Gilbert of Clyde has grades 9 and 10, and Principal G. R. Mealing of Clyde will instruct the high school classes.

The entire school has had a good going over prior to the opening of school and Mrs. Kellough's grades 7 and 8 room has had a new floor built in it.

A farewell party was held in the Clyde Community hall on Friday evening for Mr. and Mrs. Mike Seabur, Loretta and Larry who leave this week to make their home in Camrose. In the whist drive Loretta Seabur won first prize and John Huessner was awarded consolation. The Seabur family were presented with a clock as a gift from the community.

Sunday evening the young people of Clyde gathered at Island Lake for a Weiner roast and farewell in honor of Loretta Seabur. Loretta was presented with a pen and pencil set from her friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wheeler and sons Garry and Gordon of Edmonton were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Middleton last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Sjostrum of Kelowna, B.C., are visiting at the home of their son Ted and daughter, Mrs. Ray Shank.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson and son of Athabasca were Sunday visitors in Clyde.

Miss Gilberte Bayille of Edmonton spent a few days last week visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Munn.

Mrs. R. McMillan spent several days last week visiting relatives in Edmonton.

Mrs. G. Siegle spent the long holiday week-end with her parents at Carlos, Alta.

Miss Madge Smith of Westlock commenced on Wednesday afternoon giving piano lessons at Clyde at the home of Mrs. John Langford. Among her pupils is Jack Langford who is studying grade nine piano and grade three theory.

With construction work speeded up on the new highway, the camp has moved to a new location west of Tawatinaw. This is a splendid new road and residents of the district are very pleased with it.

Among the first crops to be combined here this year is that of Mr. Clarence Davis. Machines are busy running, everywhere now and some clover reports are quite favorable, considering the year.

Many Clyde residents were visitors at Basquette Lake last week-end and attended the annual corn roast. A grand fireworks display was given.

In 1948 more than 135,000 beaver pelts were taken by Canadian trappers.

District Couple to Live in Redwater

Planning to make their home in Redwater, are Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sawka, above, who spent their honeymoon at Banff and Jasper following their marriage recently in Edmonton's St. Joseph's Cathedral. The bride, the former Miss Kay Puchalka, is the daughter of Mr. John Puchalka of Coronado. Her husband's mother, Mrs. A. Sawka, lives at Radway.

DUTIES OF WEED INSPECTORS DESCRIBED BY SUPERVISOR

MORINVILLE. — Duties of weed inspectors in the municipality were outlined in the recent report by Field Supervisor Walter Eliett to Municipal Council. Text of the report follows:

Five weed inspectors are employed in the municipality and they are as follows: H. H. Milligan in the Vimy and Legal districts; Chas. Green in the Bushy, Alcomdale and Calahoo districts; Arthur Stapleton in the Morinville district; Chas. McConaghy in the St. Albert and Villeneuve districts; and Julius Soltes in the Picardville area. The Picardville and Morinville men are first year inspectors and are both doing well to date, though the Picardville district needs a lot of cleaning up and I spent two days in this area with the Weed Inspector. A portion of the land under "Notice to Prohibit Seeding" was seeded by the farmer who then went on an extended trip so we had the land plowed. No new infestations of Leafy Spurge have been found this year and last year's patches are being eradicated with sodium chlorate. Toad flax is prevalent in parts of the Legal district and is proving difficult to eradicate with cultivation but is quite susceptible to sodium chlorate but this method is expensive except for odd patches. It is quite evident that many farmers do not pay attention to news weeds or the control of the better known ones, which only goes to prove that weed control in some instances means farmer control. Where a sound corn rotation is practised, weeds are no problem but the percentage of farmers doing this is far too small. Toad flax is being watched for closely throughout the municipality.

SEED CLEANING PLANT

The directors of the Seed plant held a meeting in July to which Dr. Henry of the University of Alberta and Mr. Goodall of Plant Products division were invited in order that the question of germination of seed grain be clarified. Some fields have been inspected by these men and results from the same lot of seeds were conflicting as growth varied from poor to good. Dr. Henry claimed that soil conditions caused damage from nematodes which would not occur where moisture was adequate and growing conditions good. Mr. Goodall stated that germination tests are run in duplicate and the average taken, also that following three tests on the lot in question, the original tests were confirmed. The Audit of the Seed Plant books was done early in July and in future the fiscal year will end June 30th with the annual meeting being held within 60 days following that date. Considerable time was taken with the account for the end of the season's run but final records show satisfactory results in the first season's operations.

SUPERVISED FARMS

All farms placed under supervision in the last two years were called on during July and while some are slow in coming ahead, all show improvement to a greater or lesser degree. The rains during the second week in July assured growth of all forage crop seed planted this spring as well as being of untold benefit to grain crops and pastures. I have felt that insufficient time was available to give the attention to some of these farms that I would have liked to, having so many other projects requiring attention such as the field sprayer and fields to inspect prior to spraying both for the MD outfit and private parties,

Connie Forsen has his cousin Bonnie Phillips of Edmonton visiting him.

Last Friday evening several car loads of Sunday School students from Duganston went out to Island Lake for a jolly picnic and weiner roast.

Among the serious effects the railway strike caused was a shortage in binder twine, felt by farmers who did not combine their crops.

Mrs. Selvas and son Roger of Lacombe were visitors this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Tinant.

Mr. and Mrs. Arsene Roberge and family of Bonnyville were visitors last week with their son at Westlock and relatives at Vimy and called on their niece, Mrs. W. J. Cunningham of Clyde whom they have not seen for 17 years. Cunninghams greatly enjoyed their visit.

Clyde Comments

Destiny may shape our ends but diets moulds our middles. Men are advised never to wear long woollen underwear if they hope to keep the embers of romance glowing. Are bony shanks and gooseflesh more glamorous?

The five weed inspectors with their problems, and accounts of the seed plant and records of the sprayer. However, the two latter are practically completed now, leaving more time for the weed problems and supervised farms.

BING CROSBY, still as popular as ever, has now initiated his son Gary, into show business. They're heard together on a new platter, "Play Some Simple Melody," on which Gary does most of the singing. It's good!

While 2,000 persons watched, Donald Longevin, left, jumped from a high bridge over the Welland river near Niagara Falls, Ont., and swam to the rescue of nine-year-old Michael Wylie, who was being swept away by the river current. Rescue occurred during near-by Chippewa's centennial celebration.

Weekly Garden-Graph

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Released by Central Press Canadian

Tough, scaly, cracked appearance of the bark on branches and twigs of fruit trees in the home garden may be the first indication that the treehoppers are present. They especially like apple, peach, pear, cherry and quince trees. Prepare to battle them for trees or branches infested by treehoppers will never make vigorous growth.

In early fall the treehopper deposits its eggs in the bark of its favorite fruit trees or certain ornamental trees. The female has a sharp cutting tool with which she makes slits in the bark of trunk, branches or twigs. Through these slits she forces her eggs into the inner bark. The scar resulting from these slits later separates to form the double crescent shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. The wounds offer entrance for disease organisms.

When the egg-laying period is over the adults of the treehopper of the bark on branches and twigs die. An adult treehopper is illustrated. The eggs remain embedded in the bark during winter. In the spring they hatch out into tiny nymphs, which drop from the trees and feed on weeds and grasses. They in turn reach the adult stage in August.

Tree sanitation is the best method of controlling treehoppers. This means keeping down all weeds and grassy growth under and around trees apt to be infested by treehoppers.

To kill the overwintering eggs of this pest spray infested trees with a dormant spray of six per cent oil. The use of dormant sprays, after the foliage has dropped has been found to kill from 75 to 100 per cent of the eggs so cunningly hidden by the female treehopper.

Treehoppers, incidentally, are not cousins to the pestiferous leafhopper.

Controversy Rising Over Alberta Development Plans

By RAYMOND ARGYLE

With Alberta in the midst of unparalleled development, through expanding oil fields, renewed industrial activity, and a booming construction business, a controversy is arising over plans for future development of the province's cities and metropolitan areas.

With L. E. Detweiler in the centre of a contentious debate over a proposed $25,000,000 'Miracle Mile' for downtown Edmonton, another figure is stirring speculation and discussion with an $8,000,000 'Super Suburb' scheme that would give Jasper Place, a sprawling community on Edmonton's western outskirts, 1,250 new homes.

He's Edward Litchfield, an ebullient, self-sure former Edmontonian who's spent the last decade at the coast in the construction business there.

Detweiler, and the Edmonton civic officials who stand behind him, including some of the commissioners and the town planner, and Litchfield, stand at opposite ends of the globe as far as planned development for Alberta is concerned.

"The trend all over North America is for decentralization," Litchfield told this reporter, and he went on to add that the Detweiler scheme was not in accord with present town planning schemes.

Litchfield would have Canada's Central Housing and Mortgage Corporation undertake financing of his 'Super Suburb' scheme for Jasper Place, with his construction firm doing the job of erecting the thousand-plus units that would go to make up the development.

Speaking of the proposed utility scheme for the same community, which would have the Dominion government finance water and sewers in Jasper Place as a civil defence emergency scheme, Litchfield said that the legislative set-up in Canada does not allow the federal government to step in over the head of the provincial government in such matters.

About 160 acres would be required for his Jasper Place program, and he is asking council there to select three possible sites on which provincial heads could consider locations for the development.

"Next year there may be a $20,000,000 fund in Alberta for such development," said Litchfield. "It should be used wisely," he added.

"It's the heritage of every North American to own his own home, and his own land to do with as he wishes, providing he doesn't interfere with the rights of his neighbors," said Litchfield. "That's why millions of people left Europe," he continued, "and they came here willing to fight for that right."

He contends that his proposed scheme for Jasper Place would give that heritage to more than a thousand residents there, and that it could be duplicated all over the country.

In Vancouver Litchfield has undertaken two large-scale housing programs, one along the coast city's Grandview highway, and one along Marine Drive, which will be a $35,000,000 development by the time it is completed five years hence.

ALBERTA JOB PICTURE BEST

More people were working in Alberta per capita last month than anywhere else in Canada.

That's what the Dominion Bureau of Statistics in Ottawa reported this week.

Per capita weekly wages in Canada hit an all-time high last month and industrial employment climbed to record peak for July 1.

The advance index number of employment, on the basis 1926 equals 100, touched 201.8 compared with 196.4 at June 1, and 199.5 on July 1, 1949.

Salaries Up

Per capita weekly salaries and wages moved up to $45.20 from $44.59 at June 1, and $42.96 at July 1, 1949.

The employment index by provinces, with the comparative figures for June in brackets: Prince Edward Island 179.5 (167.3); Nova Scotia, 184.6 (180.1); New Brunswick, 182.2 (168.1); Quebec, 197.3 (193.0); Ontario, 212.2 (207.1); Manitoba, 169.5 (160.9); Saskatchewan, 168.2 (164.6); Alberta, 223.0 (214.3); British Columbia, 207.7 (203.7).

Score Oil Success On Edge Of City

Indications of oil success have been obtained at a wildcat well scarcely beyond the Edmonton city limits.

Officials of the Edmonton North Oil Co., an independent firm headed by William Moore, 1950 University of Alberta graduate, said light brown crude had been obtained in a drillstem test at their Edmonton North No. 1 wildcat.

The well is the closest ever drilled to the city.

"New Schools for Old" Subject of CBC Broadcasts

By ETHEL TRUPP

Attention of radio listeners is drawn to the CBC series entitled "New Schools for Old."

Dr. S. R. Laycock, past president of the Canadian Federation of Home and School and now chairman of the School Education Committee of the Canadian Home and School and Parent-Teacher Federation will give a series of six lectures which commenced Aug. 29. This series will be on the air at 8 p.m., MST. The series will deal with the following topics on the nights indicated:

Sept. 5—"School Children are People"—A discussion of how discipline in the modern school is different from the old way. This will include a discussion of the modern idea of thinking of behaviour as caused and the need for diagnosing problems in an intelligent fashion.

Sept. 12—"Better Ways of Teaching"—This will bring out the modern trend of teaching as Group Leadership rather than the teacher merely telling, explaining and lecturing.

Sept. 19—"Teachers Ancient and Modern"—The public still thinks of teachers as filling-station hands rather than as social engineers. This modern teacher must be intelligent, well-adjusted and resourceful.

Sept. 26—"The Slow Child in School"—He will deal here with the effects of failure and discouragement in the traditional school and the newer ways of helping such a child.

Oct. 3—"The Bright Child in School"—This will include discussion of what the bright child contributes to society, what he is like and how he should be handled in school.

Parents are requested to write their opinions of the broadcasts to G. F. Bruce c/o CBC.

The first recorded typewriter was patented in England in 1714.

Drunkenness No Excuse

"I didn't know what I was doing. I didn't really intend to hurt him" . . . "to crash into the car" . . . "to commit murder" . . . "to leave my child" . . . "to hit that policeman" . . . "You see, Your Honor, I was a little high!"

"I was intoxicated."

"I was under the influence of liquor . . ."

"I didn't mean to" . . . "The act was not premeditated . . ."

Intoxication as an excuse, twisted and turned this way and that, but still an excuse. Something to lean on when common sense has gone.

An appeal to the court on the ground that all men have this common failing, and you, Your Honor, know that a man is not quite all there when he is drunk and shouldn't, therefore, be held responsible for what he does.

When is all this nonsense in our courts going to stop?

Drunkenness is no excuse and never can or should be held as such.

Drunkenness is a cause. A man or woman who, when intoxicated, damages, injures, or kills, is and should be just as liable as the man or woman who, when sober, damages, injures, or kills.

To the dead child it makes no difference whether its killer was sober or intoxicated.

If anything, a sober killer is more likely to have taken precaution to avoid the death. The drunk killer is a killer whether in a car or with a gun or knife in hand.

"It Ain't Necessarily So"

By T. W. PUE

There is an old saying that figures don't lie—but liars can figure.

In the unemployment insurance game this does not hold true. In other ways, perhaps, but the very existence of Unemployment Insurance benefits gives us much greater unemployment figures than the true facts would bear out.

When a lady works and pays unemployment insurance, then gets married and quits her job to spend her time at housework instead of pushing the keys of a typewriter, is she unemployed? Of course not. But because of U.I.C. she registers as unemployed, and draws the benefits.

Take another example. A small acreage farmer gets a job with a construction crew during the summer. He and his family work hard on their little farm to provide a livelihood, in addition to his construction job.

Freeze-up comes, building slackens and he's out of work. Now if there was no unemployment insurance he'd go back home and do the daily chores without bothering to call himself unemployed. But because of out-of-work benefits he lists himself in the winter season army of idle workmen.

Carpenters are always considered a little higher paid because their work is seasonal. But there are always six weeks of bitterly cold weather when they'd rather get $18.00 a week from the government and be home by a warm fire than $60.00 on the job. More unemployed, who wouldn't consider themselves as such if it weren't for the U.I.C. "Unemployment Insurance is making bumps out of some young men. They would rather take $18.00 a week in insurance than go where work is available."

This statement was not voiced by any reactionary, conservative industrialist.

It is the considered opinion, recently expressed of a man intimately acquainted with the operation of our Unemployment Insurance Commission, and one who is entirely sympathetic to the plight of those who are jobless through no fault of their own.

He must remain anonymous because he is a senior civil servant. But his views are worthy of study.

Far too many Canadians look upon jobless insurance funds as money which they, themselves, have saved and, therefore, money which they have a right to dispose of as they see fit.

That, of course, is far from the case.

Jobless insurance funds are not the sum total of the savings of all Canadian workers. If each contributor decided to quit and draw all the unemployment insurance to which he or she is "entitled", the fund would be speedily broke.

While there are $85 million dollars in the federal unemployment insurance treasury, it is worth noting that in 1949, a year in which Canadian employment was at a high, the fund staged a very "close race" between costs and income.

Unemployment insurance is insurance and nothing more. It is intended to cover short term emergencies. It is paid out of funds contributed only one-third by the employee, and the balance by the employer and general tax-paying public.

Insurance is only good if it is paid out under sound, business principles.

It is not designed, and never was, to bonus idleness.

Scriptural Meditations

"When we come to ask mercy and blessing from God we should have a spirit of love and forgiveness in our own hearts. How can we pray, 'forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors.' (Matt. 6:12) and yet indulge an unforgiving spirit? If we expect our own prayers to be heard we must forgive others in the same manner, and to the same extent, as we hope to be forgiven."

"Perseverance in prayer has been made a condition of receiving. We must pray always, if we would grow in faith and experience. We are to be 'instant in prayer,' to 'continue in prayer, and watch in the same with thanksgiving.' (Rom. 12:12; Col. 4:2) Peter exhorts believers to be 'sober and watch unto prayer.' (1 Peter 4:7) Paul directs, 'In everything by prayer and supplication with thanks giving let your requests be made known unto God.' (Phil. 4:6) 'But ye, beloved,' says Jude, 'praying in the Holy Ghost, keep yourselves in the love of God.' (Jude 20:21)

"Unceasing prayer is the unbroken union of the soul with God, so that life from God flows into our life; and from our life, purity and holiness flow back to God."

Keep Trucks Free

Dear Editor—If there was need of proof that truck transportation is an indispensable part of our economic life, the recent rail strike should resolve it once and for all. . . and it should demonstrate the threatening implications of federal control of highway transportation. This national transportation emergency would have been a national disaster if the trucking industry had not been free to play its full part in the nation's business.

It would be folly to jeopardize Canada's economic life in these critical years by denying the motor transport industry its natural growth. The recommendations of the railways in respect to meeting motor transport competition are economically unsound and politically undemocratic. All of Canada stands to lose if the federal government assumes control of highway transportation and inevitably proceeds to legislate it out of existence in response to pressure of railway management and labor.

Respectfully yours,

A. H. MUIR

Civil Service Lament

Dear Editor—In all the merry-go-round of Ottawa, things are at their worst in hot weather. The work slowed up so much this summer that the director sent the following circular to various offices in his department:

"It has been brought to the attention of this office that man employees have been dying while on duty for apparently no good reason at all. Furthermore, the same employees are refusing to fall down after they are dead. This practice must stop at once. On and after July 1, any employee found sitting up after he or she has died will be dropped from the payroll at once without further investigation under Regulation No. 29, section 89. Where it can be proved that the employee is being held up by a desk, drafting table or typewriter or any other support which is the property of the government a 90-day period of grace will be granted. The following procedure will be strictly adhered to: If after several hours it is noticed an employee has not moved or changed position, the department head will investigate. Because of the highly sensitive nature of our employees in regards to such things as death and their natural working attitude, the investigation will be made quietly so as to prevent waking the employee if he is asleep. If some doubt exists as to his true condition, extending a pay check is a fine test. If the employee does not reach for it, it may be reasonably supposed that he is dead. (Note: In some cases the instinct is so strongly developed, however, that a spasmodic clutcher reflex action may occur. Don't let this fool you.) In all cases a sworn statement by the dead person must be filled out on a special form provided for this purpose. Fifteen copies will be sent to Ottawa and two copies to the deceased, the others will be promptly lost in the department files."

Bombs Away

Dear Editor—Stalingrad . . . Coventry . . . Cologne . . . Hamburg . . . Hiroshima . . . Nagasaki . . . Here there are six terrible examples of bomb destructiveness. How can there be any possibility doubt in the minds of our public officials that these examples, one might almost say lessons, so widely publicized on this North American continent, demonstrate that the European concept of town planning with its accent on "Centralization" is outdated. To prattle of parking problems in Edmonton and suggest greater concentration as a solution, is sheer nonsense. The public's instinctive trend is towards greater safety through "decentralization," the movement lacks leadership therefore a degree of chaos exists.

The concentration of public buildings, warehouses, manufacturing plants and populations is a German concept of town planning developed primarily because of of land lack, and because it helped regimentation.

Projects of the nature of that at present being sponsored by City Commissioner Hodgson and Mr. Detwiler could be excellent markers for a bombing run.

Perhaps an atom bomb will never fall on Edmonton, but in the light of present and probable future conditions, who will dare predict that other types will not.

Attention Governments

This editorial is directed to provincial and federal members of parliament and to senior civil servants.

But even if the idea it suggests is essentially sound, it will need the support of electors all over Canada to put it into effect.

Here is the idea. Would it not be more sensible for our federal and provincial governments, in decentralizing further their offices, to locate in cities and towns not already favored by expanding industrial growth?

In other words, why should not governments locate more branch offices in municipalities in which office space is less expensive, housing is easier to get, and in which the added employment potential would ease to some extent the jobless problem?

Certainly convenience in communication services is a factor in certain places but wonder if this consideration is not more than offset by other gains.

Note and Comment

An investment in soil conservation, in reforestation, in wild life preservation, is a re-affirmation of our belief in leaving to our children a heritage of which they may be increasingly proud.

James Syme Hastings, who worked on the Cincinnati Enquirer in the early 1900's, contributed many famous sayings which are still used by current writers. Among them are the lines: "Every baby resembles the relative who has the most money." "Do right and fear no man; don't write and fear no woman" was another. Again, "Most husbands develop into pretty decent animals, considering the material their wives have to work with."

Municipal district councillors hereabouts who had an expensive time with winter-worn roads this spring might profit from this story by Earl Wilson.

A visitor asked a local councillor: "How are the local roads?"

"Fine," he replied. "We've abolished bad roads."

"Big job, wasn't it?" said the visitor. "Not at all," the councillor said. "Where-ever the going is particularly hard, we don't call it a road. We call it a detour."

Businessmen who object to government in business, should conduct their affairs like free enterprisers and not like monopolists.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON:

Christianity's Growth Possible Through Courageous Preachers

The growth of Christianity has been due largely to the fearless utterances of consecrated preachers who obeyed their conscience and dared the enmity and hostility of powerful and determined opposition.

When John Bunyan was in prison and threatened with banishment unless he desisted from preaching, he replied: "If I were out of prison today, I would preach the gospel again tomorrow, by the help of God."

When the Apostle to the Indians, Eliot, was threatened by them he replied: "I am about the work of the Great God, and my God is with me; so I fear neither you nor all the Sachems in the country."

So it was with Martin Luther. During his conflict with the Pope, when he was summoned to the Diet of Worms, his friends begged him not to go. "Were there as many devils in Worms as there are tiles on the roofs, I would go," he replied. At Worms, asked to recant, he said, "I may not and will not recant. I can do nothing else; here I stand; so help me God, Amen."

Several months after Pentecost, the stir caused by the unusual events of that day had begun to subside when Peter and John inaugurated a new wave of amazement. As they passed the Beautiful Gate of the Temple, a well-known beggar, lame from birth, appealed for help. Unable to give financial aid, Peter restored him to health and strength—a much greater blessing than the beggar had asked for or expected. Immediately following, Peter preached to the crowd which gathered, boldly proclaiming Jesus as the Messiah, accusing the Jewish people of his death, and declaring that Jesus had been raised from the dead by God.

The Temple priests considered the teaching of religion their exclusive functions. The Sadducean party, to which the High Priest belonged, rejected the doctrine of immortality and naturally disliked the preaching of the Resurrection. Therefore, Peter and John were seized, lodged in prison over night, and in the morning brought before the assembled Sanhedrin, which had gathered to pass upon this new challenge to traditional religion.

Called upon to explain the power by which he had done such a miracle, Peter replied with boldness and courage. He frankly and affirmatively declared that his work had been done in the name of Jesus and accused the tribunal of crucifying the expected Messiah. Further than that, Peter declared that in Jesus alone was salvation and in no other, thus stating the exclusiveness necessary for complete faith in Jesus.

The members of the Sanhedrin were astonished at the hearing and utterances of those two men, whom they knew to be laymen and unskilled in theological instruction. They realized that these men had been companions of Jesus.

Seeing the formerly lame man standing healed in their midst, they could say nothing but warned the apostles not to continue with their teaching. However, Peter promptly answered that they would have to obey God rather than men.

Peter, before the Sanhedrin, was a different man from the denying fisherman only a short time before. Something had happened to him. Dr. J. H. Jowett points out what this was:

"He had been to the empty tomb. The awe of the resurrection is upon his spirit. And he had been by the lake on the morning of the reconciliation. The live coal from the altar of his Lord's love had touched him and had purged away the uncleanness of his denial. And he had been in the upper room at Pentecost, and the mighty Spirit had come upon him like wind and flame, endowing him with forceful and enthusiastic character. Now, he can dare for God, now he can work for God, now he can burn for God! And this is how he has been transformed."

Even in the cowardly, uncertain, boasting, arrogant, denying Peter, God saw possibilities. At times, it seems that God deliberately chooses those who have

Teachers Attend Banff Meeting

Sixty-five teachers selected from all parts of the province are attending the second annual Workshop of the Alberta Teachers' Association at Banff this week. The Workshop is conducted annually by the Alberta Teachers' Association for the purpose of developing interest in extra-curricular activities pertaining both to the affairs of the teachers and to the communities in which they work.

The Workshop offers four regular and one special course, each of which is headed by a consultant. The teacher-students are divided into four groups with each group having two half-day periods for each course.

C. R. Strother, professor of clinical psychology at the University of Washington, is the consultant in the course on group planning and Lars Olson, a past member of the provincial executive of the Alberta Teachers' Association, is conducting the course on administration in the Alberta Teachers' Association. Third course is on educational publicity and public relations and is headed by T. A. Shandro, Alberta Teachers' Association director of educational publicity and public relations. Gordon Wilkinson of the Trades and Labor Congress is the consultant in the course on collective agreements.

A special course on education writing is being conducted this

Solution To This Week's Puzzle

The LIGHTER SIDE

Definite Rebuke

"I asked if I could see her home."
"And what did she say?"
"She said she'd send me a photo of it."

In Reverse

"Why didn't you enjoy your drive to Florida?"
"Well, we had to follow the main highways—all the detours were being repaired."

Same Clothes

"I don't like to say it, dear, but Fred doesn't seem to be as well dressed as when you married him three years ago."
"That's strange. I'm positive it's the same suit."

Pala

"Girls, my pal over there is going to surprise everybody at the party tonight by singing, so I guess I'll accompany him."
"On the piano?"
"No, to the hospital."

Patriotic Gesture

"So you traded in your old car, at last," said the pessimist.
"Yes," said the optimist. "I'm not one to hold back on our defense program when the government needs scrap iron."

Melody Lingers On

"My daughter has arranged a little piece for the piano."
"Good! It's time we had a little peace."

Abstinence or Else

"So you attribute your longevity to abstinence from alcohol?" inquired the inquiring reporter.
And the centenarian admitted.
"Yes, my wife would have killed me if I had touched a drop."

Not So Slow

Three men named Jones, all in the same line of business, opened shops next door to one another. The one on the right had the name "Jones" painted in large letters over the door. The one on the left immediately did the same thing.

The sign-painter then approached the centre Mr. Jones, asking him if he would like his name painted also.

"No," said the wily one. "I want you to paint the word 'Entrance,' over my door."

Letter to Louisa

Mother Thinks Married Son Should Stay With Her

Dear Louisa—I have an only son who has recently married. I have a large enough house to accommodate all of us and had expected to have him and his wife live with me, but during the past week he has been offered a much better paying job in another city.

His wife is anxious to go and he wants to go, in a way, and yet he hates to leave me alone. He feels that it is his duty to stay with me.

His wife has suggested that a nephew of mine stay with me, but that will only mean protection and not the companionship that my son and I have enjoyed together.

Don't you think the young folks owe us old ones something?

MOTHER.

Answer:

Yes, I think they owe you something, but not the ruin of their lives. From your letter I think you are the selfish person in this instance, instead of your son.

To begin with, you are willing to keep him in an underpaid position and probably kill all of his ambition, and initiative in order to keep him tied on to your apron strings. Instead, you should be so happy over his promotion and be doing everything possible to make him do the best that he can.

You are apparently an able-bodied well woman. Why can't you rent out part of your house or get some congenial woman to come and live with you? There are so many things for you to be interested in that you must cease depending on your son for all of the companionship you have hitherto enjoyed.

You must remember that he is married now and that his wife is supposed to come first. Unfortunately, while you will both be as dear to each other as ever, you cannot possibly see as much of one another as you have in the past, without causing dissatisfaction between him and his wife.

A wife has her place and a mother hers, and it is well not to demand too much.

Good luck,

LOUISA.

Alberta Crops Reported Later than Normal

Alberta crops are two to three weeks later than normal, Hon. David Ure, minister of agriculture, reported last week. Harvesting is becoming general in the south, with yields of five to twenty bushels in some areas, he said.

Mr. Ure stated that average yields west and north of the Killam line probably will be between 15 and 25 bushels per acre, but harvesting will not be general in this area from one to two weeks. East and north of Edmonton the average yield has been estimated at between five and 17 bushels.

Prospects for forage seed crops are generally fair.

A hailstorm which struck several districts two weeks ago, is reported to have caused damage to 50,000 acres between Daysland and Czar.

Condition of livestock continues fair to good. The fall pasture outlook is mostly good. Reports on the second hay crop indicate only fair to poor yields, but other fodder is generally sufficient for requirements.

Despite good pastures, cream production for buttermaking continues below the same period last year. Fewer cows are being milked. It is believed that current high prices for slaughter cattle has resulted in the sale of many marginal producers.

Latest Rural Electrification Project Opens

The Burrhead district just east of Vermilion was the scene of a happy gathering recently when the residents of that district and many interested friends met to celebrate the completion of the latest addition to the ever-growing list of Co-operative Rural Electrification projects that continue to extend the comforts conveniences and economies of electrification to rural Alberta.

The gathering place was Union school, established in 1909, and it is interesting to find that among those who were mainly instrumental in bringing electricity to this area of seventy square miles, there were three of the original students at this school.

The highlight of the afternoon was when, ushered in by the martial strains of the bagpipes played by Pipe Major Angus McMillan and Roderick McMillan, Wop May of Canadian Pacific Airlines turned the switch.

Among the visitors present was the mayor of Vermilion, Mr. W. P. Pilkie who recalled some of his early experiences when he started farming in this district in 1907. Mr. John Melnick, Alberta Master Farmer from Warwick congratulated the association. He stated that his farm had been electrified for just about a year and, as a result of his experience, was convinced it was the best investment he had ever made. The Burrhead project would, he was sure, prove equally satisfactory to the farmers of the area to be served and in its broader aspects marked one step more towards the completion of the electrification of rural north-eastern Alberta.

Mr. Steve Hawrelak represented Canadian Utilities Limited and expressed appreciation of the fine co-operation he had had from the board of directors and others during the process of organization.

The president of the Burrhead Rural Electrification Association is Mr. Hugh Stewart and associated with him as directors are Messrs. Charles Pearman, Bill Gillman, William Walker, Kenneth Watt, Donald Harrison and Robert Galloway. Mr. R. D. Mitchell of Vermilion is the secretary-treasurer.

Quebec's Meteoritic Crater Said Biggest on Earth

The largest known meteoritic crater in the world, the famed El Diabolo in Arizona, which is about three-quarters of a mile across from lip-to-lip, will have to give way to a basin discovered in the moss-covered granite plain in northern Quebec.

A party of Canadian explorers say that the newly-discovered crater is two and one-half miles wide. An aerial photograph of a newly found lake in a circle of rock attracted the attention of prospectors and led to the expedition that is now convinced that the five hundred and fifty-foot deep hole is of meteoric origin although further investigation must follow before the assertion can be positively made.

Dr. V. Ben Meen, director of the Royal Ontario Museum of Geology and Mineralogy, thinks that the mass of the meteorite would be deep underground. He places the time of the cosmic collision, in which at least 10,000,000,000 tons of rock were gouged out of the face of the earth, at 3,000 to 5,000 years ago. He reasons that the absence of mention of the catastrophe in Eskimimo or Indian folklore sets the minimum estimate and the maximum estimate is based upon the failure of the last retreating glacier to disturb the churned up rock.

The visitations of meteorites and "shooting stars" are somewhat mysterious but the scientists believe that they are the result of the explosion of an earth-size planet between Mars and Jupiter.

Meteorites often enter the earth's atmosphere but most of them are very small. Intensely heated by friction when they reach the earth's atmosphere they are usually consumed before reaching the ground. If falling at night, they appear as a ball of fire, frequently leaving a brilliant train of sparks behind. Sometimes they burst in a loud explosion.

An unusual display of meteorites often occurs in the month of August, when the earth passes through an area which annually produces a number of "shooting stars."

Alberta Grain Harvest Starting

Crops have made good progress during the past week under favorable weather conditions, and cutting will be general this week. General conditions are fairly good except where the hail and frost have been severe, says the weekly crop report of the United Grain Growers.

Certain moths cannot fly until they have reached "flight temperature" by energetically vibrating their wings.

Morinville Council Hears District Road Delegation

MORINVILLE.—Recent council meeting of the Municipal District of Morinville heard a delegation of ratepayers who called on council in regard to the opening of a road between section three and four in 59-27-W4th.

A bridge would be required over the Wahash in order that the said road may be opened.

The delegation believed that a large culvert may serve the purpose but would be unable to take all the water in the spring of the year. J. Hudec advised that it is now necessary for him to haul his children to the school bus route, a distance of four miles, while if the road in question was opened he would only have to have the children conveyed one mile which they could walk.

There is approximately 30 rods of muskeg where the moss would have to be moved in the construction of the road; this has been burned at different times and there are large holes. If the same was levelled, the road could be used as a winter road.

Mr. O. Victor advised that he had allowed travelling through his farm and while he did not mind his neighbors travelling through his farm, the private road was now no more or less a public road and due to this fact, he will be obliged to close the same.

The Reeve advised that he was aware of this road and that he was prepared to spend $300.00 on this project this year, and if the necessary machinery could be found to do the work required. There was no chance of any municipal equipment being in that locality unless it would be very late in the fall.

Auto Fad Endangers Lives

The current fad of cluttering up automobile dashboards and windshields with fuzzy gew-gaws presents a serious hazard to good vision and safe driving, says traffic experts. The monkey doll dangling in front of the driver's eyes along with spring-mounted birds, and other gadgets, is practically obscuring from view a car about to enter the highway just ahead. A moment earlier it would have been completely obscured to two people who can now be seen walking across the road. Besides getting into the driver's line of sight, these dangling doo-dads, being made so they jiggle all the time, add greatly to the strain of driving a car.

Morinville Council . . .

Telegram

Telegram for the purchase of a Super Mogul Grader as received from Harcourt and McGee of Beaverlodge was read to council and also the secretary's reply and quotation of $1,500.00 for the said grader, where is and as is. rott, Meunier, and Dusseault, was adjourned on motion of Councillor Walker. Next meeting will be held in the council chambers at Morinville on Sept. 14.

To Honor Retiring Public Relations Man

MONTREAL.—Colleagues from the fields of press, radio, magazines and public relations will gather in Montreal Saturday, Oct. 7, to honor Walter S. Thompson, CBE, retiring director of public relations for the Canadian National System at a testimonial dinner sponsored by the Montreal Men's Press Club.

The dinner will be under the patronage of a national committee headed by Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and will be attended by members of the crafts from Canada, the United States and the United Kingdom. The Press Club's organizing committee said that October 7 had been selected to enable friends of Mr. Thompson from distant points to be present over the long Thanksgiving week-end.

The retirement of Mr. Thompson marks the conclusion of over 35 years of service to Canada's railways. After joining the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific in 1914 Mr. Thompson became director of publicity when those lines amalgamated into the Canadian National System in 1922. Subsequently he also became responsible for all CNR advertising. From 1937 to 1948 he performed the same functions for Trans-Canada Air Lines.

Council of Churches Deplores Class Struggle in Canada

The Canadian Council of Churches this week issued a statement deploring class struggle and said it is opposed to all class domination "whether of powerfully organized business or agriculture or labor."

The council, which represents most of the country's Protestant churches, said in a prepared statement that labor and management alike must never forget that "true freedom creates more freedom while false freedom steadily destroys itself."

The message, offered for the assistance of ministers in preparing Labor Sunday services and distributed by the social service boards of the various churches, said the churches believe in the possibility of establishment of a Christian economic society.

Such a society, the statement continued, calls for "the extension into economic life of the ethical principles of freedom, justice and brotherhood as well as the democratic principles of liberty, equality and fraternity."

It is about two miles north, between Edmonton and the Nampa airport.

The Massey-Harris No. 26 Self-Propelled Combine

Self-propelled combining is the ideal way to harvest. It saves labor and time, offering unequalled harvesting economy. Just think of it, a single rugged motor propels the machines and powers all working parts—and does it on about the fuel needed to operate separate tractor and combine motors. All because the No. 26 has a low centre of gravity and a heavy duty, six-cylinder motor, it can be used on a rolling land and safely driven over contour-planted acres. Like all Massey-Harris equipment, it is built to exacting standards and is thoroughly field-proven.
